

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

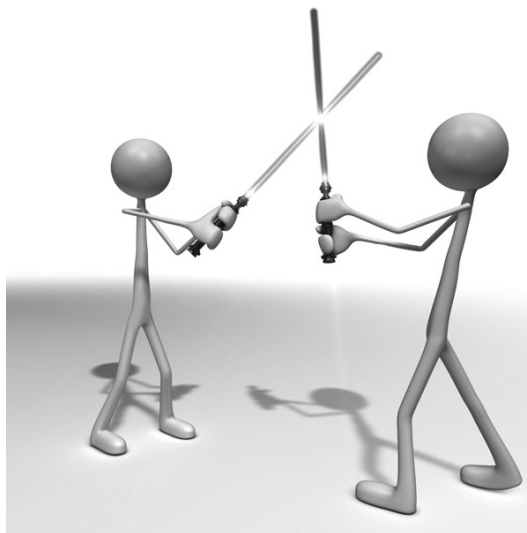

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

My favorite movie is Star Wars.

Learning Outcome

Understand detailed descriptions of real or imaginary events and experiences in present, past or future, in spoken interactions or written texts.

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about science and leisure time.
- I can express true, untrue and possible events in present.
- I can express what is likely or unlikely.

Ask your partner:

- What is one of your favorite movies and why?
- What do you like or dislike about sci-fi movies?

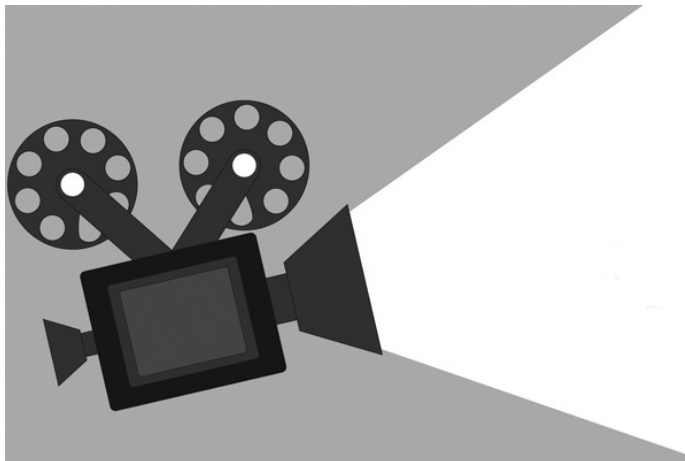

Let's Explore!

Star Wars was directed by Steven Spielberg and George Lucas.

* "Steven Spielberg" is an American film director, screenwriter and producer who has directed many sci-fi movies.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- John: That was some movie eh, Peter? I still haven't gotten it out of my mind.
- Peter: I told you sci-fi movies are awesome! There are so many great ones out there as well. If you give sci-fi a chance now, you won't regret it. You may even discover a whole new passion!
- John: I know. I'm planning on watching Star Wars later on tonight. I heard it's one of the best movies of all time. It must be good!
- Peter: Star Wars is amazing! Man, if I didn't have plans, I would come over and watch it.
- John: Really? Well cancel them. I am sure you could reschedule.
- Peter: Well, that might be a problem. I'm meeting a girl, Amanda, tonight. If I don't show up, she will never talk to me again.
- John: Wow. You must cancel on her a lot. Ah well, come on! Just give her a better excuse. If I were in your shoes, I would cancel in a heartbeat. Come on! It's Star Wars! It might be one of the best movies you ever see in your life!
- Peter: You do realize how hard you are making it for me right now. Ah fine! Only because I can't resist the temptation of Star Wars. What should I tell her?
- John: Tell her that you feel sick and if you felt better, you wouldn't cancel your plans with her.
- Peter: Okay, I like that. You're my alibi if I ever need one.
- John: If she calls you, don't pick up and tell her later you fell asleep. She can't get angry at you for that.
- Peter: She will definitely believe that. Thanks John.

Let's Practice!

Catch the words Peter and John use in the conversation.

Instructions: Complete the sentences below by choosing from the options that you are given.

Word Bank

great ones / sci-fi / awesome / alibi / feel sick / show up / heartbeat / I am meeting / better / out of my mind

1. That was some movie eh, Peter? I still haven't gotten it _____.
2. I told you _____ movies are _____! There are so many _____ out there as well.
3. _____ a girl, Amanda, tonight. If I don't _____, she will never talk to me again.
4. Tell her that you _____ and if you felt _____, you wouldn't cancel your plans with her.
5. You're my _____ if I ever need one.

Let's Practice!

What do you think of the excuse John made up?

Instructions: Classify the sentences below as likely to happen or unlikely to happen. Write the number into the corresponding category box.

1. If I don't show up she will never talk to me again.
2. If I were in your shoes, I would cancel in a heartbeat.
3. If you give it a chance now, you won't regret it.
4. If she calls you, don't pick up and tell her you fell asleep.
5. Man if I didn't have plans I would come over and watch it.

Likely to happen

--

Unlikely to happen

--

Extension Activity

Watch the movie Star Wars.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Watch the movie Star Wars in English.
- Turn the subtitles on for the first twenty minutes and then off for the next twenty minutes. Continue to alternate.
- Discuss with a friend whether or not it is likely that we will live in a similar way to those characters in Star Wars in the future.

Self-Assessment

Yes

No

I watch a movie about space.

☐ ☐

I read the subtitles at times.

☐ ☐

I express what is likely or unlikely.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- in a heartbeat (expression): to do something very quickly, without thinking about it
Example: If I were in your shoes, I would cancel in a heartbeat.
- alibi (noun): an excuse for something bad or a failure Example: You're my alibi if I ever need one.
- plan (noun): a set of arrangements for the future
e.g. Man, if I didn't have plans, I would come over and watch it.
- temptation (noun): the wish to do or have something that you know you should not do or have e.g. I can't resist the temptation of Star Wars.
- excuse (noun): a reason that you give to explain why you did something wrong Example: Ah well, come on! Just give her a better excuse.
- to show up (verb): to go to a place; to arrive
e.g. I'm meeting a girl, Amanda, tonight. If I don't show up, she will never talk to me again.

Learning Points

Must, May, Might, Could and Can't to Speculate about the Present

If you want to make guesses about something in the present, you can use special modal verbs like must, may, might, could and can't.

must	+ base form of the verb
may/might/could	+ base form of the verb
can't	+ base form of the verb

Must means that you are almost certain about something. This is the best possible guess.

Can't is the opposite of must and means that you are almost certain that something is not happening or cannot happen.

May, might and could all have the same meaning and you use them when you are less sure.

Examples:

- You may even discover a whole new passion!
- You must cancel on her a lot.
- I am sure you could reschedule.
- It might be one of the best movies you ever see in your life!
- She can't get angry at you for that.

The Zero Conditional

You sometimes need to talk about conditions and possible results or consequences that are real in the present. This is where you need to make a sentence using an if-clause.

You use a zero conditional sentence to talk about a general truth or something that happens habitually.

Grammar Structure:

if + simple present, simple present

simple present + if + simple present

Examples:

If I don't get enough sleep, I get sick.

I usually go to the beach if the weather is nice.

Learning Points

The if-clause is the condition clause and can come before or after the result clause. You need to put a comma after the if-clause if it comes before the result clause.

You use the first conditional sentence to talk about a condition that is real and can happen.

Grammar Structure:

if + simple present, will /won't will/won't + if + simple present

Example:

If I don't show up, she will never talk to me again.

You use the second conditional sentence to talk about a condition that is not real or very unlikely to happen.

Grammar Structure:

if + simple past, would /wouldn't

if + would /wouldn't, simple past

Example:

If I were in your shoes, I would cancel in a heartbeat.

Examples:

- Man, if I didn't have plans, I would come over and watch it.
- If you felt better, you wouldn't cancel your plans with her.
- If she calls you, don't pick up and tell her later you fell asleep.

